

Greenhouse Restaurant Sold

The Greenhouse Restaurant, as well as surrounding stores, has been sold to New Cohasset Properties for $565,000.

Robert Swain of North Scituate of New Cohasset Properties is the president and stockholder of the restaurant.

Carmine Carlucci of Quincy will be general manager of the restaurant, specializing in French cuisine. Carlucci was the former chef and caterer of the Log and Line restaurant on Ripley Road.

Swain is president of Crown Investment Group, which manages Cushing Plaza locally and several other properties in Massachusetts. The Greenhouse, originally owned and developed by Robert Hawker, will retain its name and hours, Swain said.

Youth Tennis Clinic On Tap Friday

The Youth Tennis Foundation of New England (YTFNE) will conduct a Tennis Clinic for youngsters and adults Friday,

July 27, on the Miliken Field courts in Cohasset, from 10 to 11 a.m. for ages 8-13 and 11 to 12 noon for 14 and older.

Board Of Appeals Denies

Special Permit

The Board of Appeals has denied a Special Permit for the conversion of Thomas and Ruth Payne's Sohier Street home into four apartments.

The Board wasn't satisfied that the existing disposal system could support four sep-ate households, nor were off-street parking provisions satisfactory, they indicated.

The Payne's had failed to apply for a required variance for one of the apartments which would be located entirely above the second floor.
